Who We Are

TKF Mission: To create safer schools and communities through education and inspiring children in the restorative principles of accountability, compassion, forgiveness, and peacemaking.

We are shifting the culture and climate in schools across the country, creating a better environment for children to learn and thrive. Since our founding more than 25 years ago, the Tariq Khamisa Foundation (TKF), has been committed to improving outcomes for youth by delivering a continuum of services that bolster social-emotional health, resiliency, and equity in education. Our programming follows a project-based learning model designed for children ages 6 to 16, as this is the critical time when belonging and becoming are critical to healthy social-emotional development. TKF programs create safer schools and communities by educating and inspiring youth in the restorative principles of accountability, compassion, forgiveness, and peacemaking. As a 501(c)3 nonprofit educational organization, our work is driven by restorative and social justice principles that celebrate diversity and collaboration

Our History: TKF was founded in 1995 following the senseless murder of 20-year-old Tariq Khamisa, by 14-year old Tony Hicks. Recognizing victims on both sides of the gun, the families came together in the spirit of healing to launch TKF. In compassion and true restorative justice, TKF worked tirelessly to secure Hicks' release from prison in 2019. TKF is a true testament to the healing power of forgiveness as a catalyst for humanity's greater good. For more information, please visit: <http://www.tkf.org>

TKF internships provide students with real world experience and exposure to working in the non-profit sector. TKF will provide a monthly stipend.
